COOP Makes Statewide Agreement With Commonwealth Of Virginia

For Immediate Release

MCLEAN, Va./EWORLDWIRE/March 1, 2004 --- COOP Consulting (www.coop-consulting.com) today announced that the Commonwealth of Virginia has made a statewide procurement of software and training services for their Continuity of Operations program.

The purchase, administered by the Virginia Information Technologies Agency (VITA) on behalf of the Commonwealth, includes the following:

- * Licenses of myCOOP(TM) continuity planning software to be made available to all state and local government institutions in the state.
- * Training courses for COOP Coordinators, Software Users and Software Administrators.

"Virginia is an especially valued client. We've been able to partner to an extraordinary extent. The agreement leverages Virginia's considerable infrastructure, including networks, data center, central help desk and training rooms," said Chris Alvord, CEO of COOP Consulting. "Their commitment will help meet the aggressive deadline for the renewed COOP planning effort required by Governor Warner."

"VITA is dedicated to supporting its customers' wide range of business needs," said Benny Ambler, Acting Security Director for VITA. "By partnering with COOP Consulting for Continuity of Operations planning, we are continuing this support in the arena of security and disaster recovery." Agencies, institutions of higher education, and localities may use the enterprise agreement with COOP Consulting at their option.
