

Feb. 16: Ebony 1st Impressions Mature Black Singles February Dinner and Dating Event

As 2007 starts, black singles find new ways to meet and build great relationships: the evening will include up to ten speed dates with a break for appetizers and a full course meal.

Media Advisory

GWYNN OAK, Md./EWorldWire/Jan. 9, 2007 --- Oddly enough, the most enthusiastic response has been from gentlemen as opposed to ladies. Several men have already committed to the event as opposed to earlier events when the response was mostly women.

A first "solo" event will be held on February 16 in Columbia, Md. The evening will include up to ten "speed" or "hurry" dates with a break for appetizers and concluding with a full course meal.

The dating events were the combined brainchild of Michelle Smith Billups' late husband and herself. To meet the challenges that still face black singles, the events will begin again in 2007 after a two-year hiatus. The location will only be disclosed to participants to protect their privacy. The Web site update and signups have been very positive.

Ebony 1st Impressions offers a variety of ways to meet new people. Two online dating Web sites provide hurry dates events are for those who like to really see what they are getting. All relationships start within and expand to include others. Building better, stronger relationships was and is the basis for the HurryDates-in-Black.com Web site and dating events.
