New Top 5 Study By LegalMetric Shows Why Patent Owners Flock To The Eastern District Of Texas

For Immediate Release

ST. LOUIS/EWORLDWIRE/July 27, 2007 --- For the first half of 2007, the most popular district for patent litigation is the Eastern District of Texas. A new study by LegalMetric shows that popularity is well-earned. The study shows that patent owners in that district win more often in contested cases than in the other four popular patent districts, making it very attractive to patentees and their attorneys. The study also revealed that the Eastern District of Texas is not the fastest of these districts in terms of average time from case filing to case termination.

LegalMetric's™ Top 5 Most Popular Districts Report compares the top five districts and their divisions. Forty-five charts identify which districts and divisions have the highest contested win rates, lowest transfer rates, highest win rate at trial, highest affirmance rate and shortest time to terminations plus much more. At a glance, the report provides essential information that is available nowhere else.

This report is perfect for use in making marketing presentations to prospective clients and managing current clients'™ expectations.
