

Protecting the Screen from Being Seen, Case-mate Covers the Handheld Market

The World's Best Privacy Screen for Cellular Phones

For Immediate Release

ATLANTA/EWORLDWIRE/Feb. 13, 2008 --- Makers of innovative accessories for the iPhone, BlackBerry, Treo, iPod, and other handheld devices, Case-mate, announces the launch of a groundbreaking new Privacy Screen.

The Case-mate Privacy Screen Pro provides the ultimate protection from prying eyes. The static cling screen allows a viewing angle starting at 45-degrees from the device's surface, ensuring that data is crystal clear to the user but not to nosy neighbors. It is the highest level of security available on the market today (other brands offer a 60-degree viewing angle). The Case-mate Privacy Screen works both horizontally and vertically, and the static cling design is easy to install and will not leave a residue on the screen when removed.

This state of the art Privacy Screen provides the user a crystal clear view, without the dimming haze created by similar products.

PDA, iPhone and Smartphone users everywhere can relax in the security of keeping their business, their business. The Case-mate Privacy Screen Pro is available for order at '<http://www.case-mate.com>'.

Case-mate.com offers a wide selection of innovative cases, holsters, and accessories for iPods, iPhones, MacBooks, BlackBerrys, cell phones, MP3 players, and laptops. Cases are available in a variety of colors, and most come with free personalization and free shipping. Case-mate products have received stellar reviews from consumers and industry professionals for their perfect combination of style and function.
