

Filmmakers And Musicians Promote Talent Through Envizions Pitchbuzz Social Network

Ignites open source game label and opens ways to monetize indie content and music

For Immediate Release

ANNISTON, Ala./EWorldWire/Aug. 26, 2008 --- Musicians and filmmakers who submit songs or videos under Envizions' indie label, Ignite Entertainment, will find their work distributed with each Envizions Computer Entertainment Corporation (EVO) open source game. Pitchbuzz.com social network made the announcement in conjunction with NVETV.tv, Ignite Music, Green Earth and Envizions Computer Entertainment Corporation. CDs will be packaged with game disc and software downloads or also sold separately.

Videos or movies with no set running time limit may be submitted by filmmakers in a range of genres: from comedy, to action, animation, documentaries, drama and musicals.

Musicians can submit music including rock, rap, country, R&B, pop, soft rock, alternative, and hard rock.

Each game package will ship with fifteen songs per disc or twenty videos selected by Pitchbuzz users. Musicians and filmmakers will be paid a pre-set amount per disc sold.

To sign up a song or video, visit '<http://www.greenearth1.org>', '<http://www.pitchbuzz.com>', or '<http://www.nvetv.tv>' to submit content or songs. Post as many songs or videos on each site for maximum distribution. All videos and songs will also be available via the EVO Smart Console network or Mirrors Evolution software distribution network.

Musicians can also have their music played on the Green Earth Radio station for no charge. An additional monetization opportunity will be available via the Mirrors Evolution Linux software and EVO Smart Console for content providers and musicians through this promotion. More news on that program will be available in the near future.

"The arrangement is a very attractive platform for indie musicians and filmmakers who are truly seeking alternative means of reaching selective audiences," stated Derrick Samuels, CEO. "This promotion establishes new ground for open music/content partnerships with game developers."

Musicians will have the opportunity to get top billing over all Envizions' Web site platforms and an Ignite or NVETV trophy. Songs and videos can be submitted at '<http://www.Pitchbuzz.com>'; NVETV.tv and Greenearth1.org posting will be made available soon.
