For Immediate Release

SANTA CLARITA, Calif./EWORLDWIRE/May 31, 2009 --- The Herrera Sindell Group Inc. (<http://www.herrerasingell.com>) - one of the premier professional real estate investment firms serving the Southern California market, today announced that with the partnership of a strong list of real estate investors, it has developed a home prevention program that specializes in pairing owners of distressed properties with active, successful real estate investors throughout southern California.

"The growing number of foreclosures in the current market has drawn our focus to purchasing pre-foreclosure properties, trustee sales and REOs. The high quality of real estate investors that our organization has attracted is very significant, so we can continue providing the necessary confidence to our investors and clients in helping out property owners in these trying times," declared Juan H. Herrera, chairman and chief executive officer of The Herrera Sindell Group Inc.

On the real estate investment front, the exceptional leverage from the company's solid network of independent realtors, mortgage lenders, property appraisers, home inspectors, title companies, rehab contractors and property management companies has offered a proven method of real estate investment success for The Herrera Sindell Group Inc. in 2008 and the beginning of this year.

"Our goal is to match potential investors with properties that yield 10 percent to 15 percent cash-on-cash investment annually," added Herrera, an executive with more than 15 years of experience in the real estate investment and asset management industries.

The high number of homes available in the southern California market presents a huge investment opportunity for real estate investors. Los Angeles is one of the nation's largest counties with 4,084 square miles - the largest population in any county nationwide with almost 10 million people, and an estimated 3,360,000 housing units.
