Secure Remote Access For MyCOOP Continuity Planning Software

For Immediate Release

MCLEAN, Va./EWorldWire/June 29, 2004 --- COOP Consulting (www.coop-consulting.com) today announced a new software user option that allows secure remote access to all types of sensitive documents involved in continuity planning. COOPRemote further enhances myCOOP, the advanced Web-based software now used widely in both the private and public sectors.

Since product launch in late 2002, myCOOP has continued to be upgraded and extended. COOPNotify and COOPExpert are among previous options making the software suite a popular choice for diverse, geographically dispersed institutions.

"Since inception, myCOOP has been designed to support all participants in the continuity planning process for complex institutions. COOPRemote has added convenience to our industry-leading, easy-to-use and low-cost product," said Chris Alvord, CEO of COOP Consulting. "Users can establish a secure connection from any public network using just a disk or memory stick. Any PC can be used - from home, a local coffee shop or anywhere in the world."

About Coop Consulting

COOP Consulting, headquartered in McLean, focuses exclusively on continuity of operations (COOP) and business continuity planning (BCP) and related services. This includes exceptional software, professional training, and experienced staff. The company has many substantial clients in both the public and private sectors. The company operates as a Woman-Owned Small Business for contracting purposes.

COOP has three assets covering all needs of a continuity planning program:

- Software - myCOOP team planning software, developed with Microsoft.
- Consultants - certified in industry-standard methods and procedures.
- Certified Training - in any classroom or at NYU and USDA Grad School.

Compliance with resumption regulations is a difficult challenge for diverse, geographically dispersed institutions. COOP Consulting's experienced staff and alliance partners are focused on these needs.
