

XCEO Launches On Site App

For Immediate Release

SANTA CLARA, Calif./EWorldWire/Oct. 8, 2013 --- XCEO Inc., a governance and leadership consulting firm, has released BoardPortal PLUS(R) On Site, a version of its popular board portal app designed to allow boards to run the app on their own dedicated servers.

BoardPortal PLUS On Site contains all of the same features as the standard version of the app, including offline document review, annotation, print, folders, automatic sync, multi-factor identification, secure email, and remote purge. It is available in both iOS and Android versions.

The only difference between the standard BoardPortal PLUS app and BoardPortal PLUS On Site is that boards may run BoardPortal PLUS On Site on their own servers, while the standard app uses XCEO's servers. According to Mike Dobmeier, XCEO's Web Services Director:

"Some companies' security policies require board books and other sensitive material to be kept on servers that they have selected. Our security is of the highest quality, and we are extremely confident in our ability to protect our clients' data. However, we want to provide a broad range of options to our clients. BoardPortal PLUS On Site is another example of our commitment to delivering the most comprehensive board portal available."

Dr. Curtis J. Crawford, president and CEO of XCEO, said, "This is just one more way in which we at XCEO go the extra mile for boards and directors. Not only do we offer the best, most comprehensive and most accessible board portal out of all the board portals on the market, but we are able to meet whatever policy requirements a board may have."
