Global Music Awards (GMA) is a prestigious international music competition which celebrates truly independent musicians, showcasing original music, unique voices, and emerging artists outside of the major label system. GMA honors establish credibility and help artists schedule bookings and secure dates, as well as gain promotion, distribution, and radio play. Talented artists who win awards are just as talented as some of the biggest artists in the country; GMA helps generate buzz about their music and reaches industry insiders, music managers, music supervisors, and record label executives. News is distributed via Eworldwire to music media and news outlets around the world.
